

I am completely on XM's side in this issue. I was fed up with conventional radio was tired of the censorship and general poor quality of FM radio. I think Clear Channel is running scared and is filing frivolous claims. The FCC needs to worry about more important things. We have the right to choose and i choose XM.